Thanks a lot in advance. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ - PC ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ Çağdaş ABD Dış Ticari Mülkiyeti - Yenisei Oblast PS. THERE IS NO WAY IN THE WORLD THIS IS ACCURATE FYI. D2L.1.10 is a Japanese SKU, it is completely different from the North American SKU, there is no crossover. Starting with 1.11 the Japanese SKU is not possible to find on the ebay Japan store. I would like to know more about the history of this, was it simply a marketing decision? Was there a problem with finding the Japanese SKU over the US one? Q: Can you use 'to' with 'will' Can you use 'to' with 'will'? I have done some searching and I came across a few sentences which were like this: I will see you tomorrow. I will be seeing you tomorrow. I think that the use of 'to' instead of 'to' with 'will' is wrong. They don't sound correct and I have never heard them before. Thank you A: Both the original sentences mean the same thing. The word 'tomorrow' is not a verb here, it's a noun used in a counterfactual context. This is standard English. For example, if you said: I was going to do something on Friday. It wouldn't be incorrect, but it's not the same thing you said. The sentence means you won't be doing something on Friday. The sentence means you were going to do something on Friday. The sentence I gave you is the same as the one I gave below, it's just phrased differently. I was going to do something to you.
