In the former case, the fee to be paid by the parents of the child to the State and county for the care of said children is based on a percentage of the State and county aid, the amount of which is fixed by statute. In the latter case, the fee to be paid by the parents is based on a percentage of the State and county aid, the amount of which is fixed by statute. In all of these cases the department has the power to make rules and regulations and the State and county are required to pay a percentage of the aid to the State and county on the basis of such rules and regulations. The power of the department, under the provisions of the last section, to determine the amount of the fees to be paid the State and county is not exclusive, but this section must be read in the light of section 21.34, which provides that, where the parents are the ones who are legally liable for support of the child, "such parents" are required to pay the fees in the manner provided by the department. The Department is empowered to provide by rule that the support and care of the children in the institutions provided for under the provisions of section 21.31 shall be paid for by the department and not by the State or county. If this were done, the parents of the child would be required to pay only that percentage of the State and county aid to which the child was entitled on 82157476af
